Meet Bridget Monroe Pope!

Rosie Pope's newest daughter is ready for her close up! Bravo's Pregnant in Heels starlet and her husband, Daron Pope, recently welcomed their fourth child this past March, and after 10 weeks of pure doting on their bundle of joy, the couple finally decided to give the world a glimpse at their latest addition, Bridget Monroe.

The 34-year-old momma and her husband, Daron Pope, now have a full house, all with three children under the age of 5 running around: sons J.R., 4, and Wells, 3, and daughter Vivienne, 2. But just because Bridget is the fourth child in the ever-growing Pope family, that doesn't mean she hasn't been showered with the best of the best — let alone have her nursery designed by a professional.

Created by Vanessa Antonelli, aka "The Baby Stylist," Bridget's nursery is everything adorable with a few touches of gold. "I always make sure that the people who have to live with the room every day are part of the process," Vanessa exclusively explains to Wetpaint Entertainment. "If I am the only one who loves it, what good does that do once I leave?"

Now, just because Bridget's nursery was designed by Vanessa, doesn't mean Rosie didn't have any say in the matter. In fact, Rosie had a pretty solid idea of what she wanted Bridget's nursery to be like, and Vanessa delivered (pun intended).

"Rosie started by giving me her preferences as far as color, prints, and brands. After that, I created several designs for her. She actually picked elements from them, and we combined them for the final product." Nothing says chic like a mother's touch!

"I love the gold details. A lot of people are afraid to add gold into a room, and I understand that. (Have you ever been in a Trump Hotel?!) But the gold in this room is so stylish," Vanessa says. "There's gold hardware, shelves, a unicorn head — which I love — and the shimmer in the furniture paint. It's soft, beautiful, and almost romantic."

"I think Rosie loves the furniture. Very early on in the design process, she mentioned she loves DucDuc and Oilo, so I wasn't at all shocked when she picked those items from the designs. Both brands have lots of custom options, so it was easy to tailor it to what we were trying to create."

"The nursery doesn't have a strong theme. You will very rarely see me design around one, and if I do, the theme elements are easily changeable. It isn't long before kids have their own opinions!" explains Vanessa. "Rosie wanted it to be soft pink and feminine, and she definitely got that. The table and chairs are in the room so the three other children can spend time playing with their new baby sister, which is so sweet."
